Summary

Passionate Full Stack Developer with Real-World Impact

I'm a passionate web developer currently studying in college, with a strong focus on Full Stack development, particularly in the MERN stack. I've successfully completed numerous web development projects, including live applications that are actively used by my college. My technical expertise spans across web technologies like HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Node.js, Express, SQL, and MongoDB. I am also proficient in DevOps tools such as Docker and AWS, alongside programming languages like C, C++, and Java. I thrive on building impactful, real-world solutions and continuously expanding my skills.

Experience
